"A fine wee lass, a bonnie wee lass.." These words describe three-month old Elizabeth Elliott, dressed in tartan glengarry and shawl, as she celebrates St. Andrew's night with her parents and friends at West Guilford Community Centre Friday evening. The "ceildh" was held to honour the patron saint of Scotland as well as to help raise donations for the St. Andrew's Church building fund. The evening's entertainment included pipers and highland and country dancers. The enthusiastic crowd enjoyed refreshments after the entertainment.

Haliburton Act first reading

The Haliburton Act was given first reading in the provincial Legislature Monday. According to Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins, the provision was introduced at approximately 3:30 in the afternoon.

The act, which will elevate the county to full status within the province, has been under consideration for the past two years. Earlier this year, the revisions were passed by the county council and were forwarded to the provincial government for approval.

According to Eakins, the bill was to have been introduced last Thursday but was delayed when representatives of the New Democratic Party held up the day's proceedings with debate about the Ontario economy.

Now that the bill has been introduced, it will have to be circulated to all parties for their consideration. Eakins said he did not expect any opposition, since the bill was a non-partisan matter. "I already have the assurance of Municipal Affairs Minister Claude Bennett that the bill will go through as quickly as possible. I will be speaking to the NDP representative tonight (Monday) to get their co-operation as well," the MPP stated.

Eakins said that without debate the legislation could be approved by the Legislature in a matter of five minutes. He said he planned to speak briefly on the measure when it is introduced again.

Describing the legislative action as "a formality", Eakins said he hoped the new act could be endorsed by the Legislature prior to the Christmas recess.

Pergolas queries $300 OHRP Committee stipend

The propriety of paying members of the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) Committee a fee for their services, without a written policy or by-law to cover the payment, was questioned at the November 27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

Councillor, and Deputy Reeve-elect, Ed Pergolas objected to the payments when a letter from the outgoing Reeve Lloyd Walker was read to the meeting. Walker, who has left the municipality for a vacation in Florida, said in the letter he felt the payment was valid and that it should be made. The amount of the payment, to cover meetings in 1982, was $300.

It appears that a number of cheques were attached to the reeve's letter. The meeting was later told that the reeve and deputy reeve had already received their cheques. Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard, who was chairing the meeting in Walker's absence, told the councillors that the payment had always been made in the past and he didn't see any reason why the payment shouldn't be made this year. "I've got my money and don't intend to pay it back," the outgoing deputy reeve told the councillors.

The OHRP committee was established after the municipality was successful in applying for the provincial program. Under the scheme, funds are made available to the township to lend to area residents to make improvements to their homes. The purpose of the program is to upgrade existing housing stock in the community and assist those who were unable to afford the costs of the renovations.

Under the program, only those below a certain income level are eligible for the funding. As well, discretion may be exercised as to how much interest, from zero to eight percent, would be charged, or whether a portion or all of the loan to an individual would be "forgiven". The determination of the pay-back would be based on the income level of the applicant.

To help administer the program and determine the amount owing from each applicant, a local committee was organized to oversee the funds allotted to Anson, Hindon and Minden. This group would consider the applications as they were received, decide how much would be made available to each applicant and determine the repayment scheme.

Under the program, the municipality was entitled to deduct 10% of the total money allocated to applicants for "administration purposes". This amount was set aside to cover the cost incurred by the municipality in processing applications, inspections by the by-law enforcement officer and other costs associated with administering the program.

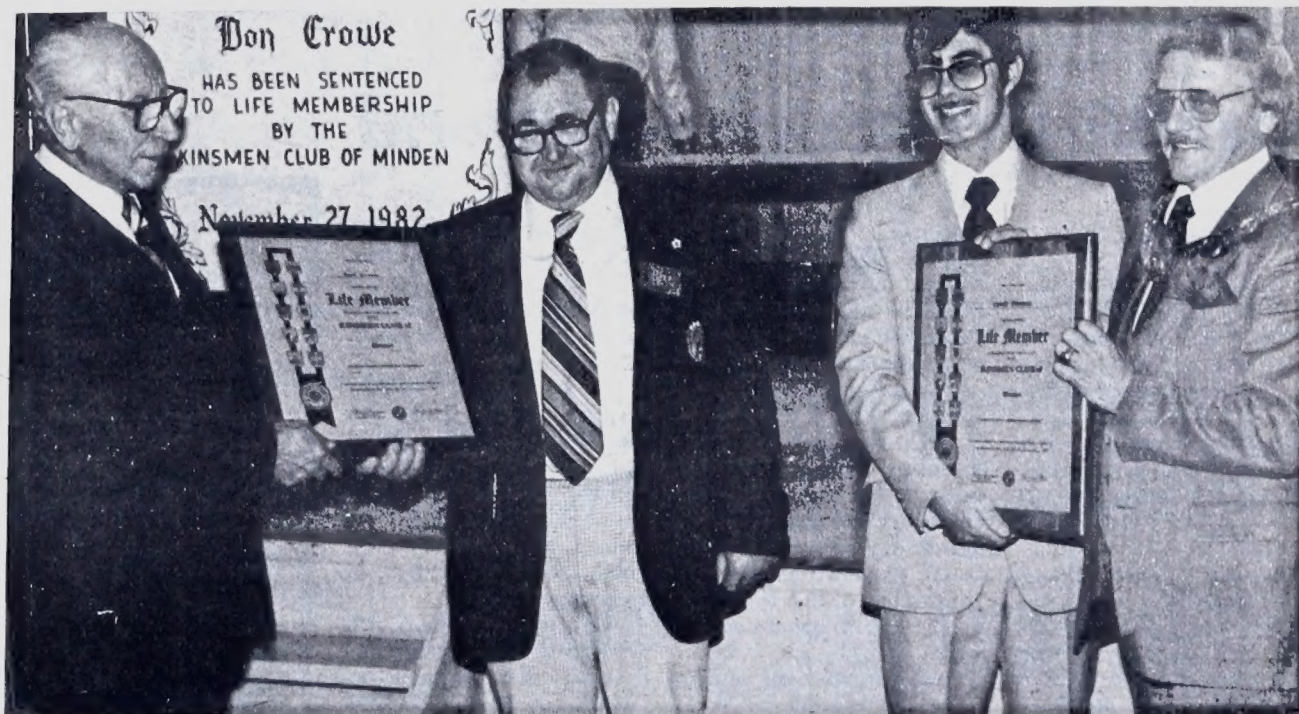

Appointed to the committee for the past year were the Reeve, Lloyd Walker, Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard, Councillor Lyle McKnight and By-Law Enforcement Officer Dick Schell.

Opposes payment

Councillor Ed Pergolas said he was opposed to the $300 payment because the council had not set a policy to cover it. He said the precedent would mean that other committee members would have to receive similar payments.

Pergolas said the 10% administration fee was

Hal Rogers.

It is not a name that many people would recognize, but surprisingly, Hal Rogers has influenced, in a very important way, over 400,000 individuals across Canada.

Hal Rogers is the founder of the only all-Canadian service club, Kinsmen. He was in Minden during the weekend to attend a special meeting of the local Kinsmen Club and bring his own special enthusiasm to the organization, its members and guests.

It was 1920 when Rogers formed the first Kinsmen Club, however his reasons for doing so reach back four more years. He and his family had moved to the steel city in 1916. "I immediately enlisted with the armed services and found myself overseas, celebrating my seventeenth birthday in the trenches of Europe."

During the war he was transferred to a regiment from British Columbia, so, when the war was over he returned to a city he barely knew, and the friends he had made during the war left for the west coast.

"I applied to join the Rotary Club which my father belonged to, but was turned down. They already had a member of my classification, my father," Rogers recalled. He also remembers, with a slight twinkle in his eye, that with some ferreting he discovered a Rotary Club that did have two members from the same classification. "They were both Pullman porters, but while one was listed under that classification, the other stated his job as being the night porter in charge of berth control."

His father suggested that Hal attempt to form a club of his own, "with men of my own age." As he pointed out, it wasn't an easy task in a city where he knew no one.

"I simply stopped someone on the street, introduced myself and suggested that we find a group of young men who might be interested in meeting for fellowship." The individual happened to be someone who was also alone in the city and so they agreed to find others and form a club. On February 20, 1920, twelve individuals got together and the first Kinsmen Club was formed.

The early growth of the club was not a result of any planned process. Individuals who had attended a meeting of the Hamilton club moved to other centres where they started up new branches. Gradually the network of clubs expanded until it spanned the country. Today there are approximately 700 clubs with an active membership of 17,000 members. Rogers estimated that since the organization was formed in 1920, some 400,000 individuals have been members of the Kinsmen Club.

One of the big differences between Kinsmen Clubs and other service clubs is the age limit which restricts membership in Kin to those under 40 years. "Individuals of a certain age have a certain age and outlook. So as members of a club grow older, they tend to attract only individuals of their own age group. The result often is a stifling of new ideas as proposed by younger members." Kinsmen who reach the 40 year age limit can join the K-40 Club and maintain their contacts with the organization.

The idea of a young men's service club in Canada, spawned other similar organizations in various parts of the world. England has its Round Table service club, in Australia and the South Pacific a similar organization is known as Apex, while in the western United States and Founder of the Kinsmen Club organization, Hal Rogers, was in Minden during the weekend.

Latin American it's 20 - 30 Clubs. The organizations meet together once a year in a loose affiliation that helps to strengthen international bonds. "When the convention was held in Calgary a number of years ago we had 52 nations represented," Rogers pointed out.

The founder of Kinsmen of course still maintains a keen interest in the organization, but following his own dictum regarding age limit, he is no longer a member. "I like to tell anyone who says I must still influence the organization, that while I may speak about Kinsmen, I never speak for it," Rogers commented.

But his presence at a Kinsmen meeting or gathering still brings a great deal of excitement to the event.

Looking ahead to the year 2000, Hal Rogers predicted the Kinsmen Clubs of Canada would follow the same concept that has steered the clubs until now. "Service to the community, fun and fellowship, the theme is the same as it was when the organization was first finding its way in the early 1920's," he commented.

intended to cover office costs. "It is not to be used in this fashion," he commented. He noted that the administration portion of the grant becomes part of the municipality's general revenue and therefore the council must have a policy or by-law to authorize any expenditure from the account.

Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard noted that the money was coming from the provincial government and that the payments would not cost the local taxpayers anything.

The meeting was told that the OHRP committee met on eleven occasions this past year with some meetings lasting up to two hours.

Reeve-elect Lyle McKnight said that OHRP committee members in Stanhope Township are paid more than the Minden members and that those who serve on a similar committee in Dysart et al are paid by the meeting.

"It is too bad this thing is coming up now," Councillor Pergolas commented. "I had made my feelings known to other members of council at an earlier meeting and I'm against any payment without first providing proper approval through a by-law or policy. And I'll oppose that as well."

Pritchard said that he had to take time from his work schedule to attend OHRP meetings. He said the payments represented compensation for the loss of income and the fact that two of his employees had to wait for him while he was attending the meeting.

By-law enforcement officer Dick Schell said that an effort was made to schedule meetings in off-hours so they would not interfere with working time.

Councillor Larry Cummins suggested that since two members of the committee had already received their cheques that the payment be allowed to stand and the new council be asked to set a policy regarding payment of committee members.

The matter was left unresolved after Pritchard declared that he had no intention of returning his $300 payment. Both he and Reeve Lloyd Walker have their cheques while the ones made out for Councillor Lyle McKnight and By-law Enforcement Officer Dick Schell are still in the hands of the clerk.

Run-away tire strikes building

A run-away wheel from a tractor trailer unit caused $800 damage to the front wall of the Monmouth Township Roads office Department building Tuesday morning (November 23).

The large truck, driven by Alain Vachon of Quebec, was travelling on Highway 121 near Tory Hill. As the vehicle rounded a corner, the wheel came off and travelled 100 feet before crashing into the front wall of the building.

Constable Mike Smith investigated the incident.

Slippery road

The driver and passenger in a 1976 model Chrysler were slightly injured when their vehicle left the roadway and slid down an embankment. The accident occurred November 26 on Highway 121 west of Haliburton.

Terrence Allore, 18, of Minden was the driver of the car while Michelle McKelvey, 16, was the passenger.

Slushy conditions are blamed for the mishap which resulted in $5,000 damage to the vehicle.

The accident was investigated by Constable Wim Magee.

Ice

A car being driven by a

Mississauga woman left the road and overturned in the ditch November 26 after hitting an icy patch on Highway 121, two kilometres east of Highway 35. Joan Arthur was the driver.

The car sustained $3,500 damage.

The accident was investigated by Constable Jim Solway.

Deer downed

A car driven by Rodger McGill of Dysart sustained $4,000 damage after it collided with a deer November 27 on Highway 121, six kilometres north of Kinmount. The driver and his passenger, Ruth McGill, sustained minor injuries in the accident. The deer was not located.

Constable Jim Solway investigated the accident.

Police are investigating a cottage break-in which they say has taken place sometime between July and last week.

The incident, which took place on Trooper Lake in Glamorgan Township, netted close to $1,000 worth of items, including a colour television, stereo and other equipment which were removed from the premises.

Constable Al Bibby is investigating.

Council approves roof repairs

The roof on the Anson, Hindon and Minden Township office will get a new covering next year. The new topping was approved at the November 24 meeting of the council.

Garnet Brown, representative for Tiffany Asphalt International was on hand to explain the present shortcomings of the roof and outline what would have to be done to repair them.

He noted that the seams have been exposed and are cracking as a result of weathering. Brown said the covering of gravel which is usually in place on a flat roof, has been removed.

Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard, who was chairing the meeting in the absence of Reeve Lloyd Walker, noted that snow on the roof had been cleared off a number of occasions in the past because of water leaking, and it was likely the shovelling had taken the gravel as well as the snow.

Brown suggested, as well, the council consider applying a waterproof coating to the blocks on south and east walls where water running off the roof poses a problem. According to Brown, the water could result in the severe deterioration of the cement blocks and the coating would ensure the damage is stopped.

Council agreed to the complete recoating of the roof and the application of the protective wall material. The contract for the work calls for a total price of $2529. The work will not be carried out until the weather is more suitable, next spring.

Policy needed

An important tenet of responsible government is at stake in the controversy which surfaced at the November 27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

Several members of the committee overseeing the expenditures of Ontario Home Renewal Program, (OHRP) have received payment of $300 for their services during the past year. One member of council, however, has challenged that payment noting the council has not adopted a policy for the payment or endorsed a by-law authorizing it. Councillor Ed. Pergolas, who has challenged the payment, claims the money was deposited in the municipality's general account and for it to be spent, formal approval of the elected council is required. Deputy-Reeve Doug Pritchard, one of those who received the $300 payment, claims that since the money came from the provincial government, it was not costing local taxpayers anything. He has also suggested that payment has been made in the past and should continue because those who served on the committee were often subject to financial losses as a result of their service.

The council was told that the committee had met eleven times in the past year with the longest meeting lasting two hours. Even if all eleven meetings lasted two hours, the $300 honorarium represents a return of $13.63 per hour.

Not only do we find the payment to be out of line with what might be considered reasonable compensation for time spent, remembering that more than a few meetings lasted less than two hours, but we also question the need to pay elected officials and municipal employees more than what they are now receiving for extra committee work.

Certainly, if compensation is deemed necessary, it should be at a more reasonable rate. After all, the $1200 set aside for committee members' compensation could be used to extend the purpose of OHRP.

And, if the compensation is paid, a written policy or by-law should be in place so taxpayers can be aware of how their money is being spent.

Doug Pritchard, despite his declaration to the contrary, and Lloyd Walker, should return their $300 payments to the municipality until the new council can decide how much OHRP committee members should be paid.

Welcome Bicroft

Haliburton County gains another municipality today. The Township of Bicroft achieves full status on this date.

The participation and contribution made by the chairmen of the Bicroft Improvement District at the county council is well known. It is unlikely this high quality of representation will change with locally elected officials now speaking for Bicroft. We welcome the residents of the Township of Bicroft to Haliburton County and extend congratulations on their new status.

Frozen rushes.

NEED: you'll have to wait

-by Bill Scott, MP-

On November 10th, the Honourable Lloyd Axworthy, Minister of Employment and Immigration announced the details of the New Employment Expansion and Development Program (NEED). The Federal Government is providing $130 million dollars in Ontario, and the Provincial Government $150 million dollars, totalling $280 million dollars.

The program is designed to create employment for those people who have already run out of Unemployment Insurance Benefits, or are in receipt of welfare. All workers must be referred from Canada Employment Centres. To be eligible, they must be unemployed and possess the skills required. Priority will be given to workers who have exhausted their U.I. benefits ten or more weeks before referral and judged by an employment counsellor to be unlikely to get a job in the foreseeable future.

The program calls for projects to be sponsored for a duration of twelve weeks to twelve months. New projects may be approved throughout the length of the program, which is scheduled to be between January 1, 1983 and March 31, 1984. NEED funds will contribute up to an average of $200 per week per eligible worker, with extra contributions for key skilled supervisory personnel.

Sponsors may be federal or provincial government departments or agencies, municipalities, voluntary non-profit organizations, private sector businesses and unions. An additional $125 per week per worker may be made available to some sponsor to help cover capital and other costs.

Participating organizations are, of course, free to augment the funding for their workers if they see fit.

The projects may involve any number of people, and the nature of activities is open to the sponsors. A NEED Advisory Board for the Province will advise on regional employment strategy. That board, I am told, will consist of 8 to 10 representatives of the community at large. They will be appointed by the Minister on recommendation from his advisor, the Province and the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. A joint Federal-Provincial NEED committee will review all projects and recommend their acceptance or rejection to the Federal and Provincial Ministers.

Despite repeated requests from the Opposition in Ottawa and from the Province of Ontario, the Minister is steadfastly refusing to allow this program to come on stream until January 1. He is not allowing the application forms to be made available to sponsors at Canada Employment Centres until the end of December. I am at a loss to understand how he expects a family, with little or no income, to put food on the table in the meantime.

Vic-Ply workers need assistance

- by John Eakins, MPP -

Last week the Davis government refused to allow an emergency debate in the Legislature on the economic needs of eastern Ontario. I was personally disappointed, for I wanted to draw to the attention of the Treasurer the urgent need for assistance and employment for the Vic-Ply workers of the Coboconk and Norland areas who are caught in a desperate situation.

The Speaker ruled in favour of the Opposition motion, but it was overruled by the government members in the vote that followed.

These workers and others in similar areas such as Haliburton are caught in a situation where few other employment opportunities exist. I have written to Treasurer Frank Miller asking that this area be given every opportunity to share in the recently announced funding for job creation. Our need is just as great as the large urban areas.

According to the provincial Treasurer, in addition to the $100 million pledged by the Ontario government for employment creation under a recent federal-provincial agreement, there will be another $50 million made available to stimulate the provincial job market this winter. The three-month winter spending program is intended to show results by

Haliburton County has one more township

Today is a red-letter day in the community of Bicroft. Today, December 1, 1982, the community attains full township status. The area, with its economic roots deep in the mining industry of the south eastern portion of the county, has suffered some severe blows in the past year. The fall in the uranium market and the closing of the Madawaska Mines, has placed the future of the municipality and others in the area in jeopardy. So, as Bicroft embarks on a new era, many questions about the township's future remain unanswered. Times reporter Jamie Friel visited the community Friday to talk to the newly elected Reeve, Bill Howe, and to get a feel for the new township.

The Improvement District of Bicroft may seem like a remote entity tucked away on the eastern border of Haliburton County, but today it took a giant step closer to greater recognition and appreciation by other sections of the county.

Today, as a result of an act of the provincial Legislature, Bicroft is elevated from an improvement district to a township. The change means a number of things, particularly for residents of the new township. On November 8 the residents had their first opportunity to elect local representatives. Previously the members of the governing body of the improvement district were appointed by provincial decree.

It also means the community will be represented by an elected representative at the county level. Bill Howe, who was acclaimed as reeve and who had served during the past year as chairman of the improvement district, will take his seat at the county council table.

Howe said one of his aims after being appointed chairman was to get township status for Bicroft. Approximately one thousand people live in the area. "There was no reason for the difference in status. The sewer and water debentures which kept us an improvement district were paid long ago."

An open meeting was held June 15 and people were invited to ask questions and air their concerns about the potential change.

"We had an excellent meeting, a good response. There weren't any registered objections," Howe said when the bylaw was taken to the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB).

The transition from improvement district to township, "ran very smoothly. There were some problems running an election for the first time but our clerk, Sandra McColl, did an excellent job," said the new reeve.

The all candidates meeting for this first election was a success according to Howe. About 100 people showed up and talked to the candidates.

After the election was over the former trustees, Jack Todd and Acie Easton were councillors with Ross Bailey and Jim Fraser joining them on council. The 44% turnout was the highest in the county.

"I think we have a good council. I don't see why we can't do a good job," said Howe.

There is another title change in the county. Sandra McColl, secretary-treasurer for the improvement district, will now be clerk-treasurer. Steve Ryan the foreman for the district for about 20 years, retains his designation.

"There won't be a change in my role at county council.

I sit there now with the same status as the rest of the county council members," said Howe. The township is different in one manner. A statute in the Municipal Act sets out whether a township is allowed to have a deputy-reeve according to population. Since Bicroft township's population does not meet that requirement, the council will consist of a reeve and four councillors. Only the reeve will represent the new Township at the county level.

"I feel the other municipalities feel more comfortable about working with-elected officials," Howe stated.

Odd Shape

Bicroft is a strangely shaped township the "result of it being designated an improvement district" which hugs the northern ends of Paudash Lake. The township "built through federal funds" was devised for the uranium mining Madawaska mines employees. The market for uranium is slow and the mines closed in August.

"When the mines closed down in August we felt very little impact. Some people moved out but others moved in. As far as houses being vacant, it didn't happen. There were lots of houses but they moved pretty well," said Howe.

"There has been some core drilling taking place, but it's mostly conjecture," he said referring to the possibility of a renewed upsurge in mine activity.

Some of the mine sites were transformed to produce canoes and washing machine parts. Those ideas have not proved to be very fruitful.

Commercial expansion

Howe points to the new Food Fair as one of the major accomplishments in the last year. The trustees had worked with Joe Paul, a local contractor, for about two years and the result is the badly needed grocery store.

Another major project the new township is just winding up, is the Bicroft waterline connecting Bicroft Heights to the township water system. Bicroft Heights was developed for the mine's management and formerly drew its water from Centre Lake. The system had been used since 1957 and the board decided to replace it about a year and a half ago. "It had served its purpose."

The township hired an Ottawa consulting firm and after getting their estimate approved they received 75% funding from the Ministry of the Environment. The Improvement district proceeded with the project almost exclusively using local labour and machinery. "This way the dollars we're spending are being returned to the local economy," said Howe.

"I believe we've done it cheaper this way. It couldn't have been done without everybody working well together. For a small place I think we've proved a point."

The 25% the township has to pay has already been saved in their water reserve account, so there will be no tax increase to cover the upgrading.

Bill Howe feels tourism could be of prime importance to Bicroft. He said the accessibility to the region necessitates the further development of "tourism. "Haliburton to me is tourism. I believe we should be concentrating on this area. There is also an excellent potential to be pursued in lumber, with proper management."

The township hasn't developed any projections for the future as yet. "We're starting to form committees and put our ideas together. The committees will approach planning in a systematic manner," he said.

Planning is a very important exercise for the young township. If a mistake is made "planning tells you where you've made your mistake."

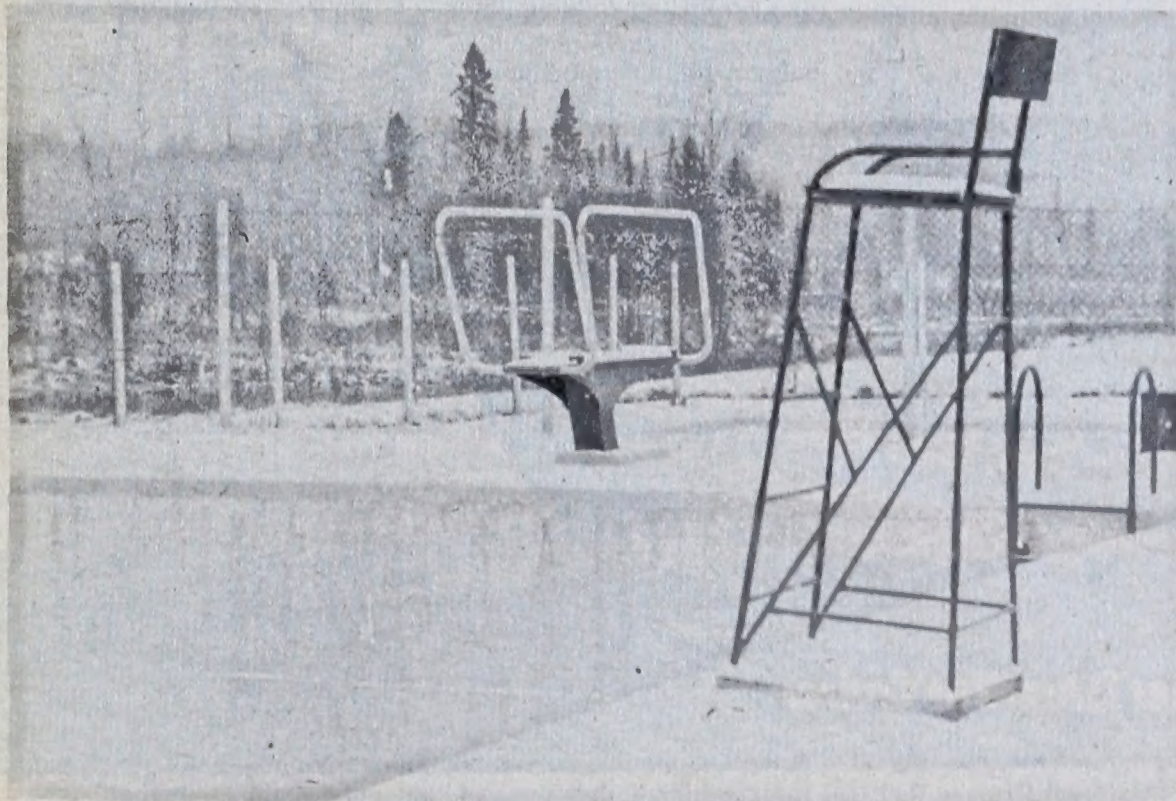

Another boon to the township has been the bridging program instituted by the Ministry of Natural Resources. MNR has set up a program for the laid-off miners to do work around the township. The committee and the district foremen listed everything which could be done to improve the townsites. The arena, pool area, brush clearing and numerous other jobs were listed.

"All the projects were approved. I think it's planning, Howe said. He estimated the savings to the municipality through this program to be about $190,000 "which we are very happy about."

"All in all we're doing very well. We had a tax increase of only about three and a half percent. We keep our eyes on things and we'll try to keep it that way. If expenses get higher, we'll have to take away the frills."

The south east corner of the county has heard from various factions, some of whom have wanted to join Hastings County. They often cite the remoteness of Bicroft from the county centre as a reason for joining the adjacent county. Howe comments "I think that was the feeling in years gone by. It is our job to promote Haliburton county and work hard at it. I'm damn proud to be of Haliburton. I don't like negative comments as to why we don't join Hastings. I'm not knocking Hastings but we're in Haliburton and we should work with that in mind. I'm going to work to promote the county here and to promote ourselves to the county."

Bicroft's swimming pool awaits those hazy, lazy days of summer.

from the chamber

by Bob Stinson

The events have been listed and the bags are on order. The next stage is to get them into use throughout the county.

Several weeks ago the Chamber announced they were initiating a novel way to publicize our annual events in the county. The events were to be listed on the sides of plastic bags which are used by merchants everywhere, and thus anyone who makes local purchases would become aware of the entertainment and diversions available to them.

As well as announcing this in the paper we wrote letters to all local organizations to urge them to submit their dates. As a result we were provided with details on over 80 annual events. Some of the details had to be edited in order to have enough space to list the major ones. This list will be printed on one side of the bag along with the Chamber's local and toll free telephone numbers to allow the reader to obtain more information.

The other side of the bag will also be imprinted. Any merchant who uses a reasonable quantity may have their own name or logo printed in this space, or if they wish to purchase bags in only case lots they may purchase bags imprinted with the Chamber of Commerce logo. Either way they will still be promoting the area events on the other side and they will be purchasing their bags at a price as low as, or lower, than they are presently.

We are rushing the supplier and we hope to have the bags in use by January 1 or sooner. If you want the supplier to make up an order for you and he hasn't contacted you yet, call us at the Chamber office, 286-1760, and we'll see that he gets in touch with you.

Writing your representative

Writing to Cabinet Ministers and your MP or MPP is an effective way to let them know how you feel on important issues. It is striking to note that a Member of Parliament considers half a dozen letters on any subject a "deluge of mail". Here are some tips on making your efforts have the most effect.

(1) Address it correctly. If you need assistance in identifying the minister responsible or what his address is, call the Chamber or your member for more information.

(2) Identify yourself clearly. Anonymous letters have no impact and often the envelope is separated from the letter before the member sees it. Be sure they know who you are.

(3) Identify the Issue - Start by using the title or number of the Bill you are concerned with and stick with one issue in any letter.

(4) Write while it's 'hot'. The earlier in the legislative process you show concern, the better the chances of being heard and affecting the issue. A critical letter after a bill has been passed serves no useful purpose.

(5) Be candid, concise and logical. Make it clear why you are writing and why you have an interest in the issue. Form letters and petitions are rarely effective and carry less weight than personal viewpoints well-expressed.

(6) Be constructive. Promoting an alternative rather than simply criticizing something will strengthen your argument and it allows a way out.

(7) Stick to the facts. Support your case with well-researched facts where possible and provide references for your statements. Members will welcome advice from those who can broaden their understanding on specific subjects.

(8) Anticipate the reaction. Try to answer all the questions the member may have before they are asked - and offer to meet or communicate further details that are requested.

(9) Don't write for the sake of writing. Don't offer your opinion on every issue - M.P.'s don't need pen-pals, but they appreciate well-timed, well-presented letters on important issues.

(10) Be prepared for a 'Form Reply'. If a particular issue generates a great deal of mail, it may be necessary for the member to use a form letter to respond to all the input received. If you consider this unsatisfactory, write a follow-up letter, courteously requesting a more detailed reply.

(11) Give credit when it is due. Don't only emphasize the things of which you are critical. If the member offered support and understanding for your position, let him know you appreciate it.

(12) Ask for an explanation in the event of non-support.

Your member can't support or agree with all constituents on all matters, but should be prepared to explain why he didn't in any case. Don't hold a grudge, it can get in way of future relationships on other issues.

(13) When writing to Cabinet Ministers, always provide your MP or MPP with a copy so he is aware as well of your concerns and where they are being directed. A copy to our Chamber would also be very helpful.

(14) This one saves you money. Remember when writing to your federal member or to federal cabinet ministers, you are not required to put any postage on the envelope.

Wilf Lahay - At rest

Over the past seven years that I have been with the Chamber of Commerce, we have never had an annual meeting without seeing the familiar faces of our county clerk Win Lahay and her husband Wilf. I suspect they avidly supported the Chamber long before I came on the scene as well, but it was at those times I always enjoyed a few informal moments with Wilf and we chatted about many things. In

by Ron Reid - Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Two issues have particularly concerned Ontario environmentalists over the past three years - the poor record in regenerating our northern forests, and the Province's habit of exempting important activities from the Environmental Assessment Act. Now the two issues are merging with a decision due before the end of the year on how the environmental legislation will be applied to forest management.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, which is responsible for forestry, has resisted strongly any moves to bring their activities under the 1975

E.A. Act. They have been operating under a series of temporary exemptions, designed to allow them time to develop suitable environmental guidelines, but their last exemption expires on December 31. So far, no decision has been made on how the deadlock between MNR and the Ministry of Environment over this issue will be broken.

In a brief submitted to the two Ministers, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists argued strongly that a comprehensive environmental assessment is necessary. Forestry is big business in Ontario, with 51 million acres of public land committed to sustain the industry. Close to half-a-million acres are clearcut every year to feed the mills, and the conflicts between this massive logging and wildlife, fisheries, recreation, native groups, and the tourism industry are enormous. MNR claims that it is committed to a policy of multiple use of the forest, but in fact there are very few safeguards to ensure that these other uses are fairly considered when forest harvesting is planned. By forcing managers to consider alternatives and to document the negative effects of forestry, an environmental assessment could provide those safeguards.

Perhaps one of the reasons for MNR resistance is their reluctance to reveal the chaos that now passes as forest management. The FON brief points out, for example, that

MNR has failed to meet most of the conditions on the present exemption order, and that the 20-year management plans that are supposed to be prepared are missing for many areas. For the large chunks of Crown land allocated under licence to various companies, only 28% of the area is covered by a current management plan, and the plans average at least 6 1/2 years behind schedule.

John Eakins - MPP

December, and to create 7,500 new jobs, forming "an important bridge" between the joint action of the federal-provincial governments, and the job-creation schemes initiated in the provincial budget last spring.

Education

The Minister of Education has stated that, as of September 1983, Ontario students will be required to write at least one examination in each subject area, such exams to be given at any time during the school year, and to be used to evaluate whether a student is able to communicate what has been learned. However, she emphasized she was not reintroducing standard province-wide exams, which were abolished in 1967.

Re-Mor

The Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations has stated that he agrees with the main thrust of a report by the Ontario Ombudsman which recommends provincial compensation for investors who lost money when Re-Mor Investment Management Corp. went bankrupt two years ago. He hopes that the matter can be resolved within a few months. Some kind of compensation plan is under review by his Ministry and the Attorney-General's Ministry. One of the difficulties is that half the 320 investors chose to appeal to the Ombudsman for a decision, while the other half went to court.

Suncor

David Peterson pointed out that the Ontario Government's investment in Suncor has already cost the provincial taxpayer more than $50 million - and the loss is rising. Through the first nine months of 1982, interest costs on the government's $650 million investment in the oil company have exceeded $69 million, while revenues have totalled about $16 million. According to Liberal calculations, the net loss through the first three-quarters of 1982 totals $52,963,127 - money that could have been used to create approximately 2,100 full-time jobs in Ontario.

Co-ordinator to be hired

The Haliburton County Board of Education has agreed to act as the sponsoring body for a co-ordinator to be hired for the Children's Service Advisory Program.

The co-ordinator, who will work under the supervision of the director of education, Doug Hodgson, will be charged with the responsibility of acting as a liaison between various agencies providing services for children and those in need of the services. The program is a pilot project being funded through the Ministry of Community and Social Services. A budget of $40,000 has been allotted for the one year trial.

Once the co-ordinator is hired in February, the individual will carry on the work of the seven member advisory committee which has been studying the provision of services for children in the county. Members of the committee include Doug Hodgson, Bon Berry, Belinda Brown, Cheryl Murdoch, Marion Tallman, Pat Cavanaugh and Dorothy

Savings are ten fold

In a report in last week's edition of The Times, concerning efforts by the Galway Cavendish Township council to trim costs by reducing the number of meetings during the first four months of the year, the amount the municipality hoped to save was incorrect. Rather than anticipating a saving of $200 as the article indicated, the council has expressed the hope the move will result in savings of $2000.

the last few years it had become increasingly difficult for Wilf to get out anywhere due to the limitations his illness placed on him, but he still managed to make it to our "annual." This year Win told me it took him about two days to rest up for the occasion and another two days to get over the exhaustion it caused, but he enjoyed it. When I begin to take some of the activities that I do for granted, I would often think of Wilf and think about what a major effort he had to make towards simple things like attending our dinner.

We will all miss Wilf Lahay but we will also appreciate the fact that his considerable suffering is over. May he forever rest in peace. We offer Win and the family our very sincere sympathy and support at this sad time.

Kinsman.

The board of education was asked to be the sponsoring body as the ministry required an established organization to handle finances.

Hodgson noted that there are 37 service providers for children in the county. He pointed out that it is often difficult to know which can provide the best service in a particular case. The co-ordinator will help bridge that gap.

Details of the position are expected to be announced early next year.

Inaugural meeting

The first meeting of the new board of education is scheduled for next Tuesday, December 7. At that time a chairman for the coming year will be chosen and the trustees sworn in for their three year term.

Fire department receives praise

The Anson, Hindon and Minden fire department has been praised for its quick action following a fire October 30.

The praise was contained in a letter to the municipal clerk read at the November 27 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden council. The letter, from Vera and George Empey of Thornhill, cottagers on Big Bob Lake, read as follows:

Dear Mrs. Burke:

In the past, we have always been ready to complain to the township when problems come up on the lake, but this time we would like personally to say thanks for the quick response of the local fire department when we needed them.

On Saturday, October 30, a cottage on Bob Lake caught fire but went unnoticed until it was too late to save the building. However, the fire fighters arrived on the scene within a very few minutes after being called, and quickly got the fire under control, preventing what could have been a very serious bush fire in the fairly windy conditions that day.

Gratefully,
George and Vera Empey
Big Bob Lake.

A copy of the letter has been forwarded to the Fire Department.

Crown trails available

The Ministry of Natural Resources has developed a new policy for trails located on Crown Land. Rather than providing grants to Clubs for the development and maintenance of Crown Land Trails, the Ministry now proposes to issue Land Use Permits on a seasonal basis to local Clubs that wish to exercise some control of their trails which cross Crown Land. This will enable Clubs to develop a user pay system to help cover costs of trail maintenance.

This policy encompasses trail groups of all kinds and is not confined to snowmobiles or cross-country ski clubs.

All interested clubs should make application to the Minden District Office at an early date. Applications should include an accurate description of the trail route, as well as proof of liability insurance (minimum of $500,000.)

For further information contact the District Manager, Minden District Office, telephone 705-286-1521.

Something Scottish for St. Andrew

West Guilford community centre hosted their fifth annual St. Andrew's Day concert November 26. Donations given at the door were put towards the church building fund. The concert featured dancing, piping and singing enjoyed by an enthusiastic crowd.

The mood for the evening was called forth by Earl Cooper playing the bagpipes. Songs with Merrie Barry and Sue Whiteside and dancing by Brandy Grundstrom followed. Margaret Milne treated the audience to a waltz played on the piano.

Faith Stephenson's junior highland dancing pupils stole the hearts of the spectators. The youngsters were given hearty applause.

The night continued with a skit presented by Brandy Grundstrom and Troy Austen, more songs, this time with the Reverend-Phillips, Mrs. Stephenson's senior students and the agility of the Scottish folk dancers. The concert closed with music by Kathleen Owens and Earl Cooper.

Refreshments and conversation completed the evening in the tradition of the Scottish ceildh.

The Minden Atoms advanced to the semi-final round of a weekend tournament before they were eliminated in a tie game with Baysville. The tournament was played Saturday at the Minden arena and saw eight teams taking part.

The Minden squad opened the action in the 9 a.m. game against Bracebridge. The visitors over-powered the local boys 14 - 1 and eventually went on to claim the championship. In the semi-final game of the consolation round, Minden and Baysville battled to a 4-4 tie, but the win was awarded to Baysville since they had scored the first goal.

The Bracebridge team received the Larry Reynolds Memorial trophy, donated by Mervin and Lois Barry of Minden, for their first place finish. The runners-up in the championship round, Oshawa Canadians, were given a trophy donated by Bernard and Betty Trumbull.

The consolation champions, the team from Whitby, received the Sid Stamp Fuels trophy, while the runners-up, Baysville was awarded the Frontier Motors trophy.

Joey Boyle scored the only goal for Minden in the opening contest. His unassisted marker came in the second period after Bracebridge had amassed a seven goal lead. The visitors added another seven before the game ended.

Boyle figured prominently in the scoring in the second match as well, scoring two and assisting on another. David Lee opened the scoring for Minden in the first period on a marker assisted by Boyle. Kent Taylor notched a second period tally for the home team in the second period, with assists going to Robbie Minden's Atom hockey team salvaged a 4-4 tie with Baysville in the game Saturday afternoon in the Minden arena. The Atoms had advanced to the semi-final round of the consolation playoff during the weekend tournament.

Juveniles extend winning streak

The Minden Juveniles continue to show good strength and scoring ability as they extended their winning streak during the last week of play. On November 21 the local team defeated MacTier by a 7-6 margin. The game was played in MacTier. Tuesday, November 23, the Juveniles edged past Gravenhurst 8-7 in a game played at the Minden arena.

Bull also assisted in three goals. Ingram assisted on a pair with Jim McKelvey, MacLeod and Scot Hamilton all lending a hand on singles. The goal by Edge was unassisted.

In the second contest, a goal by Tim Wood with just 29 seconds left to play in the game secured the win for the Juveniles over Gravenhurst. The contest had been tied since the 12:45 mark of the third period when the visitors evened the score. Assisting on the game-winning power play goal, was Greg Newell.

Ivan Ingram led the team to victory scoring five of the eight goals. Two of his efforts were unassisted. Ingram also assisted on another tally.

Other goal-getters included Eldon Bull and Greg Newell who scored, unassisted. Tim Wood picked up three assists, with singles going to Scot Hamilton, Greg Newell and John McKelvey.

Win still eludes Huskies

The Huskies were shut down by a 6 - 5 loss handed out by the Bracebridge Bears Saturday night in another fan-standing performance. The home team couldn't stop the potent goal scoring by Paul Klingbeir of the Bears who accounted for four of the team's goals and figured in another one, but the Huskies did manage to score a short handed goal which prompted glimmerings of hope.

Haliburton scoring in the first period consisted of a goal by Scott Mitchell, assisted by Glen Evans and Scott Rae. The Bears managed to put three past Colin Newell in the same period.

Roger Hicks, fired the second Huskie goal, with help from Mike Rae and Don "Butch" Manary, in the middle period keeping the two goal margin in place as the Bears picked up another goal.

The third period was the high point of the game and well worth the wait. The Huskies were down three goals and it looked to be the end of another game until the team started popping them in.

Manary picked up another assist when Scott Rae scored. Seconds later Glen Evans belted in the fourth marker.

Rob Abbs and Brent Moxam assisted.

The roll the team was on was not the least bit punctured when the Bears made it 6 - 4. Instead the Huskies played better hockey than they had all game. One of the best features of this rejuvenation was the end to end rush of Mike Rae. His efforts were met with the heartless sound of the clanging goal post, a dismal aspect of the game for the Huskies all night.

With less than a minute to play Kevin Warburton scored from Evans and Mitchell and the former glimmering of hope became a very real possibility. The puck was dropped and the Bears pushed it in the Huskies zone. The Huskies were never allowed to organize after that and the buzzer sounded.

Friday evening in Huntsville, the Huskies were defeated, 10 - 5.

The Huskies move to Minden this weekend as they meet Gravenhurst Sunday afternoon. Game time at the Minden arena is 2:30. The other Huskies game sees the team in Bracebridge Friday evening for a 8:30 match up.

Kevin Warburton sweeps past the Bracebridge net after his shot was repulsed by the Bears' goaltender. Warburton scored later in the game, however, the Huskies were downed 6 goals to 5. Glen Evans picked up three points for the Huskies during the game Saturday held in Haliburton arena.

Dacey felt right along that there was something odd, something wrong about the trip with her momma, her sister Maybeth and her two brothers, James and Sammy. They were going to see (and perhaps move in with) the Great-aunt Cilla they'd never met. Then Dacey's murky misgivings were abruptly focused when Momma left them all in a parked car in a shopping centre and did not return. They were abandoned.

It was up to Dacey to take care of the younger ones. She would not go to the authorities, fearing she and her family might be separated - she was determined to keep them together at all costs. Her only hope of help was Great-aunt Cilla's crumpled - up address that Momma had given her, and because they had less than $10.00 the only way to get there was to walk. So they did, down the length of the Connecticut coastline - a trip of many days and many difficulties.

They did not find a home with Aunt Cilla, she had died leaving a daughter Eunice, their second cousin. But while they stayed with Eunice, they found clues to where a real home might be, and the second part of their journey took them from Connecticut to Maryland, a journey of delights, dangers, sorrows and discoveries and ultimately their true homecoming.

Timbrell announces new farm program

Ontario's Minister of Agriculture and Food, the Honourable Dennis Timbrell, made several announcements of interest to local farmers at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture Annual Meeting last week.

Of interest to all farmers is the announcement that the Farm Tax Reduction Program is being continued for 1982. Farmers who qualify are eligible to receive a rebate of 50% of the property taxes they paid in 1982. To qualify, a farm must have produced food products with a value of at least $8,000 on that farm during this year.

Applications for the 1982

Tax Rebates are being sent out right away.

Mr. Timbrell also indicated that the same Farm Tax Rebate Program will be followed in 1983. Starting in 1984, a new Tax Rebate Program will be in place. With this new Program, farmers will pay property taxes on their residence and one acre of land the same as anyone else living in that municipality. However, the productive farmland and farm buildings will be assessed separately from the residence and basic one acre, and the farmer will receive a rebate of the full amount of the taxes paid on the productive farm unit.

We have heard from some people who misunderstood the news reports on the Minister's announcement, thinking that the new program was going to have farmers paying no property taxes whatsoever. This certainly is not true, as farmers will be paying property taxes on their residence the same as all other property owners.

These farm tax reduction programs are designed to overcome the unfair property tax burdens, especially in relation to education taxes, which farmers have had to bear over the years.

Financial assistance extended

The other announcement Mr. Timbrell made was that The Ontario Farm Adjustment Assistance Program which was to expire on December 31, will be extended for a second year. This program continues to be an emergency measure, designed as a bridge to a better system of farm income security.

This program is designed for a specific target audience only. The qualifications will continue to be the same for 1983 as they were in 1982.

During 1982 over 3000 farmers across Ontario have benefitted from this program, with fifty-five of those receiving financial assistance being Victoria County farmers.

If your car's out of shape you get rid of it, right? What if your body's out of shape?

Snowdon Supporters

About 40 people of all ages enjoyed a Pot Luck Supper organized by the Snowdon Supporters in the Lochlin Community Hall on November 19.

After the supper a meeting was held to discuss the activities of the group and to prepare for the winter season.

The following ideas were expressed:

1. Appreciation for the work done to date and the recognition of the long-term value to the whole community of the Snowdon park and wetlands area.

2. The need to maintain close co-operation with the Municipal Council so that available grants and support for local workers on the project can be maintained.

3. The need to make more people of the area aware of the parkland, and to encourage them to use the fine ski trails in the winter and the walks in the summer.

4. The possibility of community meetings with appropriate films for family viewing and other activities which will help to enhance the community life.

5. A decision was made to hold a children's Christmas party, and a follow-up meeting was held on Monday, the 22nd to make the plans. As a result we can now make the following announcement:

A children's Christmas party will be held in the Community Hall at Gelert on Sunday, December 12 from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. It is designed especially for children up to 10 years of age but we hope you will come as a family if possible. This is a chance to play and sing, to see some short films, to share refreshments and goodies and of course, to meet Santa who will appear in person.

We shall try to invite you and explain your part in this event, but for more information please call Jeanette Hartwick 286-2561, or Rhonda Francis 286-2373, or Carolyn Smith 286-1879.

Ron and Pat Welch of Frankfort, visited with his mother Edith Welch at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, accompanied by her sister Carrie to help Edith celebrate her eighty-first birthday. They all enjoyed a delicious roast beef dinner. The Gospel Church gave the afternoon tea party at the Home, last Thursday, and brought birthday cards and a delicious birthday cake for Mrs. Corby, Mrs. Ada Alcome, Mrs. Walters and Edith Welch. A very happy birthday to them all.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Mr. Wilfred Lahay of Minden and Mrs. McAvoy of Belleville, formerly of Haliburton, last week. Our deepest sympathy goes to their family and friends.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on November 20th in Mississauga at the home of the bride Sandra Bagan, daughter of the late Leslie Walker of Toronto and Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake, united in marriage to Mr. Frank Robinson of Ottawa. The bride looked lovely in a champagne coloured dress with burgundy accessories. Her sister, Pat Silc of Sault Ste. Marie, was her matron of honour, attired in burgundy with champagne accessories. The bride's little son, Mason was ring bearer. A delicious buffet was served and a reception followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake, accompanied by their son Greg, attended the wedding of her daughter, Sandra Bagan in Mississauga. Mrs. Pat Silc, daughter of Mrs. Harrison of Sault Ste. Marie, is holidaying with her sisters and brothers in Toronto, also with her mother Mr. and Mrs. Harrison.

The community was saddened to learn of the death of Mr. Leslie Walker of Toronto who died on November 25 in the Western Hospital in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Derek Titus of Oshawa have taken up residence in Maple Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave St. Andrews of Georgetown, attended the funeral of her late brother-in-law, Mr. Leslie Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doucette of Port Perry, attended the funeral of her late brother-in-law, Mr. Les Walker, they were accompanied by her brother, Mr. Ron Puffer and his daughter Debbie of Oshawa.

The Christmas Luncheon and Bazaar held last Friday at St. Paul's Parish was a great success. The ladies from St. Paul's would like to thank everyone who participated in making the whole day such a success. The Thrift Shop also had a very successful day. The beautiful quilt was won by Molly Lawson from the K & W Restaurant and the Gingerbread house was won by Muriel Welch.

The winners of the Mini Card Party at St. Paul's are as follows - cribbage, Lil Porter, Euchre, lone hands, Verna McDonald and Betty Harper.

The free movies shown at the Library last Friday brought a very successful turnout of both adults and children. The next movies to be shown will be on Friday, December 10. The movies for adults will be shown from 2 to 3 p.m. and for children from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m.

I will be conducting an art class at the Minden Cultural Centre beginning Tuesday, January 25 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. and I hope that many of you will take advantage of this class.

The current show at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery is the Andre Lapine Collection, with the works of some other artists on display. Beginning December 13 there will be a display of local children's art from the Archie Stouffer School. Do come and view the work of some of our potential artists. It will be well worth seeing.

On Saturday, December 4 the Reverend and Mrs. George Elliott and daughter Elizabeth will be holding open house at the Rectory from 2 to 6 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

On Tuesday, December 14, St. Paul's ACW will have their Christmas meeting at the home of Debbi Mansfield at 7:30 p.m. It's a Christmas party and all the ladies of St. Paul's are welcome to come and join in the fun. If you need directions, call Debbi at 286-1340.

White Gift Sunday, December 12. The ACW are planning to help the less fortunate, so if you have something to contribute - canned goods, knitted items, toys, clothing, or any appropriate gift, or a donation which will be used to buy perishable items, during the services there will be a special time to bring forward your white gifts as part of the Offertory. The gifts are traditionally wrapped in white, the colour of Christmas. There are many who could use your help. Thank you.

It is a busy place around here nearing Christmas time - kind of hard on us poor souls that are past our prime. It's a lot of excitement, because we are getting ready for Santa Claus.

We have a fine lady, whose first name is Arnie. Now this is no blarney, but we want you to know, that this is the lady who looks after our dough. She does a good job, and isn't content, until she can account for every last cent. She always looks so trim and so neat, from the hair on her head, to the shoes on her feet.

A word here about Rev. John B. He is as faithful as he can be - brings us a message each Sunday night, and his wife Mary, whom we think is just right, came along, keep him in line.

Linda came again Monday night, showed us three movies again. "Breaking a beaver dam", "On such a night" and "Beautiful New Zealand" which was a lovely sight.

Tuesday morning Vance English and Les Roberts of the Haliburton Pentecostal Church took the service in this place. They were both alcoholics, but were saved by Grace.

Tuesday night is music night here at Hyland Crest. Fred Ballard came, and played for us and gave us of his best.

It is nice to have Mrs. Schell back looking so well. She has been in hospital quite a spell.

We welcome the Drysdales back to their winter home, just across the way. When it is games night here, they come to play.

Thursday afternoon the ladies from the Minden Gospel Church brought a lovely lunch today. We also had a birthday party for those who had birthdays this month, by the way.

Mrs. Eastman who lives on the shore of Mountain Lake made a gorgeous birthday cake. Ruth McBrien played, and we sang some good old hymns, which was really fine. We thank them for coming, and giving us of their time.

Millie Wood is making serviette holders for the Christmas tables. She says she is going to keep working as long as she is able.

Friday afternoon, Grace Coburn and Norma Barron came this sunny wintry day. Grace came to lead the singing, Norma came to play. Grace read a couple of poems - "Selling our home" and "The furnace door". She sang "The Holy City", and the "Cradle Lullaby", and said if they couldn't come next week they would tell us why.
